

NORTH CENTRAL WASHINGTON DAHLIA SOCIETY MEMBERSHIP FORM

North Central Washington (NCW) Dahlia Society is dedicated to the growing and showing of dahlias in the NCW area. Membership is open to anyone interested in learning more about this beautiful and diverse flower. As a club, we maintain the Tony DeRooy Memorial Garden on North Emerson Street near the Wenatchee Valley Clinic. We meet monthly on the third Thursday at 6pm (5:45 for those who like to visit a bit first). We sponsor tuber sales, education and support for dahlia growers. Each September, we have a judged dahlia show in North Central Washington. Annual Membership in NCWDS is $10 per family.

We are affiliated with the American Dahlia Society and also the Northwest (NWF DG) Federation of Dahlia Growers. Individual membership in either of these two groups is not a requirement, but many of our members choose to belong in order to receive the benefits these memberships provide.

ADS Membership is $27 a year but if you belong to a local affiliate (NCWDS) your annual dues are just $24/person or $27/couple. ADS members receive a copy of the ADS Bulletin, published quarterly, access to the Members Only portion of www.dahlia.org, and a copy of the annual Classification and Handbook of Dahlias. Federation of NW Dahlia Growers (FNWDG) individual dues are $10/year per person or $15/couple (sharing an exhibitor number). As a FNWDG member, you receive an exhibitor number for use at any shows, a copy of the FNWDG program which provides show information for all Federation affiliates during the year. FNWDG also supports a seedling trial garden at Pt. Defiance Park in Tacoma, and provides workshops for members on judging, showing and growing. They provide senior and accredited judges for federation shows
